This conference is relevant to all people involved in laboratory, scientific, technical and facilities management in all areas, including life science, analytical testing, education, research, pathology, food, construction, mining, pharmaceutical and quality control.

Laboratory Managers Conference 2010

Good → Better → Best: Improving Laboratory Business Practices

With the effects of the GFC still being felt across industry, academia and business; now more than ever is the time to be working smarter, not harder.

Now in its fifth year, the Laboratory Managers Conference continues to bring you the up to date, mission critical information, tools, advice and checklists to enable you go from good, through better and to arrive at best business practice for your laboratory in your industry.

This two day conference is preceded by a choice of three (3), optional one day workshops that are designed to complement and enhance the content of the conference. The workshop facilitators are highly skilled practitioners in their chosen fields and bring a wealth of expertise to the table.

Networking is a key feature of the conference and to maximise interaction numbers are limited. Additionally, for the first time, this year there will be concurrent sessions to enhance the ability to learn and interact in an environment of your industry peers.

As well, the conference dinner, morning and afternoon teas provide ample, additional opportunity for networking amongst other delegates and the trade exhibitors.

Conference Program

The conference content will be centered around four (4) major themes:

- Regulatory affairs and workplace health & safety
- Personnel & personal development
- Environment and Sustainability
- Asset planning, management and auditing

There is an emphasis on regulatory awareness/compliance, the employee as your most important asset and chemical inventory safety and security. These issues have increasing impact as time goes by.

Presentations will include the following topics:

- Sustainable and productive laboratories
- Personnel wellbeing and retention
- Striving for zero harm in a diverse work environment
- Dealing with hazardous materials
- Data/database security & warehousing
- Records management
- Chemical inventory management and chemical security
- Cultural change and adaptation
- Continuity of business planning
- Case study: the anatomy of a major OH&S incident

Optional Laboratory Tours

Monday 22 November

Australian Laboratory Services, Stafford facility
OR

University of Queensland Centre for Clinical Research, Royal Brisbane Hospital

Workshops

Choice of 3 whole day workshops held concurrently.

Workshop 1: "Laboratory Implementation of Lean 6-Sigma"

This workshop offers an overview of the skills and technologies of Lean Operations and 6-Sigma Problem Solving that have brought radical performance improvement to thousands of companies worldwide. It adopts "the production perspective", seeing your operation as a chain of value creating activities for serving consumers needs efficiently and profitably. This approach and the range of tools used is often an eye-opening experience allowing new opportunities to be seen for radical change and improvement.

Workshop 2: "Laboratory People, and Organisational Culture"

Staff supervision is a core activity in laboratory management, requiring significant effort and diligence. It is potentially also a source of major improvement in the daily operations of many labs, particularly relating to efficiency, productivity, staff turnover, and organisational resilience and adaptability. Difficult staff, conflict between staff, technical versatility and adaptability, employee engagement, and organisational systems and culture all have an impact. These issues and more will be considered in an interactive, participative format.

Workshop 3: "Australian Labs and Global Compliance: Chemical Safety in a Nutshell"

As is well known, laboratories are subject to a wide range of regulatory compliance issues, many of which are dynamic in nature, and constantly changing. This workshop is to interactively discuss aspects of the following issues, under the guidance of an experienced facilitator well familiar with the area. Whilst information rich, the emphasis is on participation and group discussion. Topics to be addressed include:

- Laboratory regulation and compliance in Australia
- Overview of the legislative structure - acts, regulations, standards and codes
- Victoria Dangerous Goods Regulations and sunset clauses
- Chemical registration, regulation and control bodies: NICNAS, APVMA, FSANZ, OCS, TGA, SWAC, EPA, ADG, IATA, IMDG, SUSDP
- Australian standards for storage and handling of chemicals, gases, drugs, poisons, hazardous substances, dangerous goods
- (M)SDS and Labels - use and preparation
- Due Diligence, Duty of Care, Risk Assessments
- National OHS Harmonisation (National Uniformity of OHS Regs – Workplace Chemicals
- REACH, GHS, and implementations elsewhere
- Management Systems (Quality, Environment, OH&S, Laboratory)
